Guidance for dealing with law enforcement (Travel)

Offending officer or official:.....

Capacity or occupation:.....

Please identify yourself and in what capacity, or under whose or what authority do you execute your duties towards me?

“I wish to see your warrant or ID (card)”.

If identity or appointment certificate or warrant (card) is not provided the person may be impersonating a police officer and you can walk away (under The Police Act 1996 a warrant card must be shown when requested).

If warrant (card) is provided, continue with below.

“You swear an Oath to uphold the constitution, the constitutions which are brought into existence under Natural Law which is stated in your pre-amble, which means the Government can bring in nothing to infringe on our freedom to travel.”

“Are you under Oath?”

“Yes or no?”

“I have the right to video if you are committing a crime as a servant, civil servant, or an oath taker paid a salary from the Government, paid for by the people.

A guideline, regulation, act, statute cannot infringe on my inalienable rights as explained in my previous caution.”

“Therefore:

I do not consent to be stopped.

I do not consent to you touching me.

If you put handcuffs on me that is a crime of battery.

If you touch me or handcuff me, you are acting outside your oath which is unlawful and punishable up to five years in prison.

If you put handcuffs on me you are entering into a contract with me which will cost you the sum of [R5 000 per hour] for any time spent unlawfully detained, including preparing the case which will be in the High Court, the Constitutional Court, as well as Equality Court, and I will win because you are acting unlawfully.”

Serve ‘Notice to Public servant’ to the law enforcer.

Crimes against me:
